STRONG MOVE MADE FOR WHITE LABOR

Bryan Recommends To Immigration Board Laborers From Italy

The Board of Immigration held a meeting this afternoon. It was called for 2 p. m., but as some of the members were late it did not convene before at about 2:30 p. m. Those present were Chairman Secretary A. L. C. Atkinson, and Commissioners E. D. Tenney, J. P. Cooke, J. J. Carden and J. H. Craig.

The application of Mr. Ham of Kohala for a position as agent of the Board was read. It was decided that all such matters should be taken up later. Ham's application was tabled.

Letters were read from F. J. Benney and others to the Planters' Association offering to bring white laborers, Portuguese and men from Cornwall. J. P. Cooke moved that all these letters be accepted and placed on file as the meeting had no time to take the matter up. Tenney said the Board was not at present in a position to take up such matters.

A petition was also read from Portuguese residents, praising the qualities of the local Portuguese and deploring their emigration from the Territory. It asked that Portuguese be brought here and was signed by a number of local firms.

Tenney offered a resolution that the Superintendent be authorized to advertise in foreign countries showing the inducements offered here, and to appoint advertising agents to attend to these matters. This resolution, Tenney pointed out, was drawn in accordance with the Federal laws on the subject.

Craig wanted to know first what inducements could be offered.

J. P. Cooke said plantation of Alexander & Baldwin would take 300 families and give each a lot of one or two acres and wages of $20, $21 and $22 for the first, second and third year respectively with water, medical attendance, etc., and a house on the lot. At the end of five years these plantations would give the laborers a fee simple title to some of these lots.

Tenney said that he would amend his motion by adding that a form of advertisement should be prepared and submitted to the Board. With this amendment the resolution carried.

Atkinson asked when a full report could be obtained. Cooke said McBryde and Olua had replied as well as the Alexander & Baldwin's plantations. Tenney said that some plantations like Bwa were not able to deed any land as its land was leased and could not be subleased. It could, however, make some inducements in the way of allowing the laborers to cultivate lots.

Cooke presented a resolution giving the Superintendent full power to investigate the powers of the Board for the carrying on of European immigration and if this resulted favorably to give him power to arrange for the immigration of ten or fifteen families from the north of Italy as recommended by Commissioner Sargent.

Cooke said that later on Portuguese would undoubtedly be imported. Italians, however, offered the advantage that they could be obtained without passing through the States. The resolution passed.

At this point Mr. Bryan and his escorts passed through the room. The Governor introduced the distinguished visitor. Mr. Bryan asked the Board which nationalities had been imported and was informed of the success of the former Portuguese experiment.

"Have you tried Italians?" asked Mr. Bryan.

Secretary Atkinson read the resolution just passed.

"Ten or fifteen families?" asked Mr. Bryan.

Atkinson explained that this importation was merely in the nature of an experiment.

"Have you investigated into the character of the Italian immigrants?" asked Mr. Bryan. "Great numbers have settled in the rice districts of the South."

Tenney said that he had and had found them very satisfactory.

"They are very thrifty and good laborers," said Mr. Bryan, and left the room accompanied by the Governor and his escort.

BAND HOME AGAIN AFTER GREAT SUCCESS

Captain Berger and Madame Alapa of the now more than famous Hawaiian band returned from their California successes in the Manchuria. Most of the members of the band returned home with their leader and the singer. The band was absent about two months.

HONOLULU WELCOMES BRYAN THE GREAT DEMOCRATIC LEADER SHOWING HIM HER WONDERS WOULD COME AGAIN TO SPEND A WINTER MONTH IN PARADISE

"Aloha! Do I get it right? You see I've already learned the most important word in the Hawaiian language," said the Hon. William Jennings Bryan to a Bulletin reporter this morning. Miss Grace D. Bryan, the great Democrat's charming young daughter, thought it a pretty word and repeated it several times to acquaint her memory.

Bryan was standing on the lower platform of the Palama railway depot, waiting for the ladies of the party to get aboard the Oahu Railway & Land Co.'s special train for the trip to Honolulu plantation, that the famous statesman might experience a demonstration of Hawaii's main industry.

He carried a long, black, silk-lined fall overcoat over his left arm, wore a large black felt hat, a rosy coat with the sleeves a trifle too long, low collar, narrow black tie and white shirt with narrow black lines. His shoulders and hat were covered with leis of purple and white asters, carnations, violets and maidenhair fern.

Would Spend Month Here.

"Do you know," said Mr. Bryan, with the memory of his automobile trip to the Pal and the prospect of the island from the deck of the Manchuria as she approached the harbor still in his mind, "we must certainly come down here some winter and spend at least a month. I was just telling Mrs. Bryan that we could find no more pleasant, no more beautiful place on the world to spend a few weeks of rest and recreation and Mrs. Bryan heartily agrees with me. She wants very much to come here sometime when we can take our time in enjoying the country."

"My daughter is enthusiastic over what little she has already seen of Honolulu."

After Honolulu Plantation mill had been inspected and Mr. Bryan had, on the trip down the line and from the upper windows of the big mill, closely observed what was to be seen of Pearl Harbor, Mr. Bryan had the following to say to the Bulletin representative:

"It seems to me that Pearl Harbor is smaller than I expected to find it. Perhaps it appears small because of the manner in which I have viewed it. The numerous little islands seem to be in the way of accommodating a very large fleet. Now, how far is it from the shore to that first little island? Two miles! Oh, I had no idea it was so clear that distance is deceptive. It is larger than I thought. I would not be surprised if Pearl Harbor could accommodate several big navies. Immense importance."

"When I was in Congress they were appropriating for Pearl Harbor—that must be over ten years ago. I have often wanted to see Pearl Harbor for myself. I have heard so much about it and it really is of immense importance to the United States, you know. The Federal government realizes the advantages of such an important harbor in the middle of the Pacific and will amply provide for its proper defense, I'm very sure."

To Learn—Not Talk.

"To tell the truth I'm out to learn; you must not expect me to talk much about things concerning which I know but little."

"Honolulu appears to be a promising American city. You appear to have a whole lot of energy here, considering that you are not so very far from the tropics. I like your railroad system. The road bed is good. The Rapid Transit was a considerable surprise to us. Why, you have as fine a system here as I have seen anywhere."

"Then you have some modern office buildings here that would do credit to much larger cities."

For Citizen Labor.

"I see that you employ Japanese laborers in the sugar mills and in the field. Now I have not studied labor as related to Hawaii's affairs, but I'm deeply interested in American labor

BRYAN ADDRESSES KAMEHAMEHA BOYS AND GIRLS

The Bryan party received a surprise when it arrived at the Bishop Museum. President Horne of Kamehameha Schools had the students drawn up at attention in full uniform in front of the Museum and as the party alighted from the automobiles it was greeted by "Hawaii Ponoi," sung by the full chorus of boys and girls of Kamehameha Schools.

Mr. Bryan was introduced by President Horne and made a few remarks to the students in which he congratulated them on the splendid schools that had been endowed by their noble benefactor. He said that he was greatly impressed with the wonderful beauties of Hawaii.

"Of all the beauties that God has given to earth, by far the most beautiful is the human character," he said, and urged the students of Kamehameha to bear this always in mind.

After a hurried visit to the Museum the Bryan party left and the Kamehameha students sang "Aloha Oe" in farewell.

Bryan Talks To People

The reception tendered to the Bryan party at the Hawaiian Hotel was very well attended. The hotel had been appropriately decorated for the occasion with palm fronds and directly above the reception party the antlers and banner of the Elks were in evidence. The guests were introduced by W. A. Kinney, County Treasurer Trent and County Supervisor Moore. Business men dropped in to pay their respects during the noon hour and a large number of Hawaiians were in evidence. Mr. Bryan chatted pleasantly with all who came and Mrs. Bryan was very gracious.

About a thousand people gathered in the court yard of the hotel at one o'clock to hear Mr. Bryan say a few words. He spoke briefly but effectively and left an impression with every word. As he appeared at the head of the steps, surrounded by the entertainment committee and other prominent Honolulu folk, he was enthusiastically cheered.

Mr. Bryan said: "I am very glad to see that such a condition of harmony prevails in the beautiful country between the native Hawaiians and foreigners. It is only through harmony that the greatest good for the Territory can be accomplished."

"Some folks seem to think that patriotism is something that can only be manifested in time of war."

"This is not so. There is always an opportunity for the exhibition of patriotism. Every year brings its opportunity; every great question that arises in the progress of our nation brings its host of opportunities for the expression of the noblest patriotism. The patriotism that works always for the good of the country, in peace as well as war, is the patriotism (Continued on Page 4.)
